CALLING

Many negative stigmas plagued me as an adolescent. Titles such as problem child, trouble, bad guy, hoodlum, gangster, rebellious, and many other negative names stuck with me while growing up. It seemed to be easier to slap a negative name on me than for someone to actually care or understand me. I just wanted to be heard. I just wanted to be accepted. Most importantly, I wanted to be loved. I can relate to the child rejected, cast away, and looked at as a menace to society. I can understand the child that feels hopeless and broken. Jesus saved me, restored me, and wrapped me in His everlasting love. Then He told me to go be a light in the darkest places, be a voice in the silence, give comfort to the broken, and give love to the rejected. Go be everything to the children that you desired plus more.

JUVENILE JUSTICE MINISTRY

Passion

My goal is for the Holy Spirit to raise up Christ-like offspring, saved and fulfilling Christ's purpose. Help children understand their identity and purpose in Jesus Christ. Help children to transform with the love of Christ by the renewing of their hearts and minds through the Word of God.

Ministry

Juvenile Justice Ministry seeks to engage young people as they are met in a variety of youth serving institutions (detention centers, probation, correctional facilities, group homes, residential treatment centers, and emergency shelters). We currently hold a Bible study at Cedar Ridge Boys Home in Williamsport, MD which is a group home for boys in need of foster care.

Vision

Go to the children of the nation to establish a nation of God's children by revealing the heart of our Father which is Jesus Christ!
